Imagine a Forest: Designs and Inspirations for Enchanting Folk Art
Book by Dinara Mirtalipova
Thursday, March 1, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

From the inspired mind of Dinara Mirtalipova comes Imagine a Forest, a drawing and design guide to creating your own Eastern European folklore inspired artwork. Escape to your own forested fairy tale. The lush and captivating illustrations and encouraging, easy-to-follow advice featured in these step-by-step tutorials will guide you through Mirtalipova’s gorgeous folk-art drawings and inspire you to create your own. Mirtalipova even gives you design ideas and project suggestions so you can make and decorate practical things with your beautiful art. The magical folklore of Uzbekistan and Russia has always influenced the unique style of author, illustrator and folklorist Mirtalipova’s work. Born and raised in Tashkent, Uzbekistan, Mirtalipova studied Computer Science at the Tashkent State University of Economics. However, her true passion was always patterns and illustrations. Raised in Soviet Uzbek culture, Mirtalipova experiences Uzbek/Russian folklore that still influences her work. She uses a wide range of materials and tools, including lino blocks, gouache and acrylics. Books will be available for sale and signing at this event.

A Path Through Ohio: A Bicycle Journal
Book by Mark J. Looney
Thursday, March 22, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

While many cycle touring books undertake the monumental challenge of riding across America by bicycle, in A Path through Ohio, Mark Looney takes on the less lofty goal of exploring the state of Ohio by bike. Looney, who rode across the country in 1983, pours the wisdom of a thirty-five year veteran cyclist into his exciting and yet less intimidating ride from shore to shore on the Ohio to Erie Trail. This is a newly formed bicycle trail, named after the great Lake Erie to the north and the Ohio River to its south, which bounds this diverse state. This book offers the reader a blend of Ohio’s rich history, the land as seen from the saddle of a bike and the people making up the Heartland state. During a five-day journey, Looney interjects a light and humorous set of cycling guidelines titled “Looney’s Road Rules” which provide the details necessary for any intermediate or long distance ride. Books will be available for sale and signing at this event.

Cuyahoga Valley Scenic Railroad
Book by Craig Sanders
Thursday, March 29, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

Since 1975, the Cuyahoga Valley Scenic Railroad has provided transportation to and within the Cuyahoga Valley National Park in Northeast Ohio. Starting as a steam train operating on weekends for five months a year, the Cuyahoga Valley Scenic Railroad has evolved into a year round operation with three trains a day Wednesday through Sunday during the summer and autumn. Vintage streamliner-era passenger cars offer visitors an opportunity to see the park from the train or disembark to explore it on foot or bicycle. The offerings also include beer and wine tasting specials, fine dining on select trains and educational programs for passengers of all ages. Polar Express trains in November and December take children on a mythical journey to the North Pole, while visiting steam locomotives provide a glimpse of railroading of the past. Using tracks owned by the National Park Service, the Cuyahoga Valley Scenic Railroad is the longest continuously running national park-based railroad with the highest level of operations and ridership. Craig Sanders is the author of seven railroad history books and the president of the Akron Railroad Club. Books will be available for sale and signing at this event.
Clouds Pile Up in the North: New & Selected Poems
Book by Major ‘Maj’ Ragain
Thursday, April 12, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

Maj Ragain is the author of seven chapbooks of poetry and five book-length collections, all of which contribute to Clouds Pile Up in the North: New & Selected Poems. Lisa Coffman, author of Less Obvious Gods says, “These poems hold so lightly what can’t be held—old queen asleep in her milkweed chamber, the full Hunter’s moon, Secondhand Rose and February dusk, the dragon’s egg nestled against the breastbone, the lost silver earring among the flowers. You will find in this book thirst and burning air, songs in the key of High Lonesome, truths maybe we were afraid to want, and a top-down fast-ride in the convertible of Delight. Friend, Fellow Traveler, if you wished to know whether there was a place set for you at the banquet, let me point you toward Maj Ragain’s poems. They are sustenance. They are sweet mortal joy.” Ragain has served for more than thirty years as host to open poetry readings, currently at Last Exit Books. Books will be available for sale and signing at this event.

The Edge of Innocence: The Trial of Casper Bennett
Book by David P. Miraldi
Thursday, April 19, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

The Edge of Innocence is a work of historical fiction based on the 1964 murder trial of Casper Bennett, a man accused of drowning his wife in a bathtub of scalding water in Lorain. Bennett’s sensational trial pitted an aggressive, mercurial county prosecutor against the author’s father, a civil trial attorney who had never before defended anyone for murder. The book recreates the tension and excitement of this courtroom battle, and highlights the uncertain edge that often divides guilt from innocence. The author was ten years old when he answered the phone late at night when Bennett called his father from jail, seeking his legal representation. Forty years later and long after his father’s death, the author found the Bennett file in the bottom of his mother’s closet. As he uncovered the facts, the story he had known as a child disappeared, replaced by one far different. This is the first book by David Miraldi, a civil trial attorney practicing in Northeast Ohio for almost forty years. Books will be available for sale and signing at this event.

The Necklace: A Novel
Book by Claire McMillan
Thursday, April 26, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

Always the black sheep of the tight-knit Quincy clan, Nell is cautious when she’s summoned to the elegantly shabby family manor after her great-aunt Loulou’s death. A cold reception from the family grows chillier when they learn Loulou has left Nell a fantastically valuable heirloom: a stunningly ornate necklace from India that Nell finds stashed in the back of a dresser in a Crown Royal whiskey bag. As predatory relatives begin circling and art experts begin questioning the necklace’s provenance, Nell turns to the only person she thinks she can trust—the attractive and ambitious estate lawyer who definitely is not part of the old-money crowd. More than just a piece of jewelry, the necklace links Nell to a long-buried family secret. Crisp as a gin martini, fresh as a twist of lime, The Necklace is the intelligent, intoxicating story of long-simmering family resentments and a young woman who inherits a secret much more valuable than a legendary necklace. Claire McMillan is the 2017-18 Cuyahoga County Public Library’s Writer-in-Residence. Books will be available for sale and signing at this event.
A Photographer’s Guide to Ohio
*Book by Ian Adams
Thursday, May 10, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium*

With 3,600 buildings on the National Register of Historic Places, more than 120 state parks and nature preserves and the world’s largest Amish community, Ohio’s photographic subjects are nearly endless. In more than 150 color photographs, Ian Adams shows you how to capture the beauty of the seasons when photographing Ohio’s scenic vistas, nature preserves, waterfalls, public gardens, historic barns and bridges, landmark buildings and town murals. Accompanied by regional maps, each entry includes GPS locations, related websites and historical facts about the area, as well as detailed suggestions for capturing the best images. Adams is an environmental photographer, writer and educator specializing in Ohio’s natural, rural, historic and garden areas. Since 1989, Ian has produced more than sixty Ohio calendars, twenty-one photography books and conducted more than 200 seminars and workshops on photography. Books will be available for sale and signing at this event.

The Baby Thief: The Untold Story of Georgia Tann, the Baby Seller Who Corrupted Adoption
*Book by Barbara Bisantz Raymond
Presented by Adoption Network
Thursday, May 24, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium*

The story, first told by Barbara Raymond in a magazine article that inspired a 60 Minutes feature, was shocking. Georgia Tann, nationally lauded for arranging adoptions out of her children’s home in Memphis, Tennessee, was actually a baby seller who terrorized poor, often unwed mothers by stealing their children and selling them to wealthy clients like actors Joan Crawford and Dick Powell. Protected by political boss Ed Crump, Tann sold over 5,000 children. To cover her crimes, Tann falsified adoptees’ birth certificates, sealing their true identities and issuing new ones that portrayed adoptive parents as birth parents. This practice was approved by legislators across the country who believed it would spare adoptees the onus of illegitimacy. An adoptive mother and award-winning journalist who interviewed hundreds of Georgia Tann victims, Raymond has written a riveting account of a little known and dark chapter in American history. Books will be available for sale and signing at this event.

Everything I Need to Know I Learned in the Twilight Zone: A Fifth-Dimension Guide to Life
*Book by Mark Dawidziak
Thursday, May 31, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium*

Can you live your life by what The Twilight Zone has to teach you? Yes, and maybe you should. The proof is in this lighthearted collection of life lessons, ground rules, inspirational thoughts and stirring reminders found in Rod Serling’s timeless fantasy series. Written by veteran TV critic, Mark Dawidziak, this unauthorized tribute is a celebration of the classic anthology show, but also, on another level, a kind of fifth-dimension self-help book, with each lesson supported by the morality tales told by Serling and his writers. The notion that “it’s never too late to reinvent yourself” soars through “The Last Flight,” in which a World War I flier goes forward in time and gets the chance to trade cowardice for heroism. The meaning of “divided we fall” is driven home with dramatic results when neighbors suspect neighbors of being invading aliens in “The Monsters Are Due on Maple Street.” The old maxim about never judging a book by its cover is given a tasty twist when an alien tome is translated in “To Serve Man.” Books will be available for sale and signing at this event.

Tunnel to Hell: The Lake Erie Tunnel Disasters – Tales of Heroism and Tragedy
Book by Scott MacGregor
Thursday, June 7, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
The Lake Erie Water cribs and tunnels provided Cleveland’s water supply while providing jobs for local construction workers. Worker safety issues led to deaths and injuries during the construction of the tunnel, including the historic 1901 and 1916 accidents. These tunnel disasters are at the center of the graphic novel Tunnel to Hell: The Lake Erie Tunnel Disasters - Tales of Heroism and Tragedy. This historical fiction graphic novel tells the early twentieth century story of the harrowing experiences suffered by Irish and European immigrants while building water tunnels under Lake Erie. African-American inventor Garrett A. Morgan is the man behind the heroic and historic rescue of trapped water tunnel workers. Scott MacGregor is a photographer and writer from Cleveland. He has written graphic novels in collaboration with Cleveland artists including Gary Dumm and Gregory Budgett. Books will be available for sale and signing at this event.

Lost Cleveland
Book by Laura DeMarco
Thursday, June 21, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Lost Cleveland is a new book dedicated to Cleveland’s ghosts that live on. Few American cities have experienced such an explosive rise, a cataclysmic demise and a dramatic revival as Cleveland. Lost Cleveland explores the rise and the fall and the spirit of a gritty city that clawed its way back. “Lost” places include architectural gems, elegant theaters, famous concert halls and stadiums, legendary music clubs, grand department stores and bustling factories that helped turn Cleveland into America’s fifth biggest city—and one of its most prosperous. In the second-half of the twentieth century, Cleveland struggled to hold on to its past glory, like so many cities in America’s once-thriving rust belt. Many of the area’s most glorious buildings—testaments to that long-gone era—disappeared after a date with the wrecking ball. They live on in memories and in Lost Cleveland, which revisits them with rare vintage photos and colorful stories. Laura DeMarco is an arts and culture reporter for the Plain Dealer newspaper. Books will be available for sale and signing at this event.

Lethal Licorice
Book by Amanda Flower
Thursday, July 12, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Harvest, Ohio is a long way from New York City, where Bailey King left a coveted job as a head chocolatier to take over Swissmen Sweets, her Amish grandparents’ candy shop. Now, while caring for her recently widowed grandmother, she plans to honor her grandfather’s memory by entering the annual Amish Confectionery Competition. But between lavender blueberry fudge and chocolate cherry ganache truffles, Bailey may have bitten off more than she can chew when the search for a missing pot-bellied pig turns up a body suffering from sugar overload—the fatal kind. The suspects include: Josephine’s niece, a young woman going through her rumspringa, or running around time, and Bailey herself. Now it falls to Bailey, who’s sweet on the local sheriff’s deputy, to clear their names and entice a killer with a cast-iron stomach for cold-blooded murder. Amanda Flower, an Agatha Award–winning mystery author, started her writing career in elementary school when she read a story she wrote to her sixth grade class and had them in stitches. Books will be available for sale and signing at this event.
Fifty Must-Try Craft Beers of Ohio
Book by Rick Armon
Thursday, July 26, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

In Fifty Must-Try Craft Beers of Ohio, veteran beer writer Rick Armon picks the can’t-miss brews in a roundup that will handily guide everyone from the newest beer aficionado to those with the most seasoned palates. Some are crowd pleasers, some are award winners—some are just plain unusual—the knockout beers included here are a tiny sample of what Ohio has to offer. In the midst of the ongoing nationwide renaissance in local beer culture, Ohio has become a major center for the creation of quality craft brews. The book includes brewer profiles, quintessentially Ohio food pairings (sauerkraut balls and Cincinnati chili!), and more. Armon has been writing about beer as a newspaper reporter and author since 1999. He covers the Ohio brewing industry for the Akron Beacon Journal and is also the author of Ohio Breweries. Books will be available for sale and signing at this event.

Cleveland A to Z: Historical Essentials for Newcomers and Residents in Northeastern Ohio
Book by Lauren R. Pacini
Thursday, August 16, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

Cleveland A to Z was published in November 2017, in celebration of the 150th Anniversary of the Western Reserve Historical Society. It is a compendium of essays written by John Grabowski, PhD, with vintage images from the Historical Society archives, and contemporary images by Lauren Pacini. Pacini tells fascinating stories about Greater Cleveland, ranging from the Agora to the Zoo. Much of Pacini’s work has been of nature, but he has felt compelled to tell the story of the industrial city. Much has changed since Pacini moved here as a child sixty years ago. The never-say-die spirit of its citizens who have not seen a baseball championship since 1948 or a football championship since 1964 leads Clevelanders to unshakable belief in next year. While Pacini is all too aware of the city’s signs of death, he is driven to tell another story - one that celebrates its rich history, traditions and culture—one of hope—and signs of rebirth. Books will be available for sale and signing at this event.

Celebrating Ohio Book Awards and Authors
The Month of March
Main Library Newbooks Room

Get to know books from the Buckeye State in the month of March. Thanks to a grant from the federal Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS), awarded by the State Library of Ohio, Lakewood Public Library is highlighting the library’s collection of Ohio award-winning books and authors. To celebrate Ohio’s literary accomplishments we will be featuring Ohio book award winners and Ohio authors with book displays in the Main Library New Book Room, Main Library Children’s and Youth Services Area, and Madison Branch Library. Each display will feature a ballot box to allow patrons to vote for their favorite Ohio author or book.

Birds of Northeast Ohio: Beyond Your Backyard
Presentation by Matt Valencic
Presented by Audubon Society of Greater Cleveland
Wednesday, March 28, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

Over 200 species of birds can be found in Northeast Ohio in a typical year. Get a close up look at 100 of the most common residents, migrants and breeding birds of Northeast Ohio. Matt Valencic has been interested in birds and nature all his life. He has a vision of using his birding pictures to educate people about the wild birds and their threatened habitats. This lecture is inspired by The Bluebird Effect, winner of the 2013 Ohioana Book Award and a 2017 Choose to Read Ohio selection. This event is supported by the State Library of Ohio with federal funds from the Institute of Museum and Library Services.
To Ban a Mockingbird in 2018

Literature Series presented by Barbara Parr

Wednesdays: May 9, 2018; May 16, 2018; May 23, 2018 and May 30, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.

Main Library Multipurpose Room

To Kill a Mockingbird is a masterpiece of American literature that speaks to our current time as poignantly as it did in 1960. This work continues to be banned from school reading lists due to its controversial subject material. Harper Lee’s characters are vivid and lively, enmeshed in issues of family, community and the greater struggles of American society. The timeless issues of class, courage, compassion and gender roles are all seen through the lens of an innocent child as a crisis of conscience hits the town. This four part course will be presented by Barbara Parr, an instructor with Case Western Reserve University’s Laura and Alvin Siegal Lifelong Learning Program. Please read the first fifty pages for the first class. Registration is required. Register online at lifelonglearningcleveland.org or call (216) 226-8275, ext. 127.

The Gentle Subversive: Rachel Carson, Silent Spring, and the Rise of the Environmental Movement

Literature Series presented by Cheryl Wires

Wednesdays: June 13, 2018; June 20, 2018 and June 27, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.

Main Library Multipurpose Room

In this three-week series, we’ll discuss The Gentle Subversive, Mark Hamilton Lytle’s account of Rachel Carson’s life and legacy. By writing Silent Spring, this woman scientist reluctantly challenged the use of pesticides in the 1960s. Carson sparked a fierce debate a half century ago, which inspired the creation of the environmental movement and resonates in our current conversations about public policies. Join our four part discussion and learn how Carson’s life and success make her a heroine for all seasons. Cheryl Wires attended Harvard University and where she earned a Master’s Degree from the Kennedy School of Government. She is currently an instructor with Case Western Reserve University’s Laura and Alvin Siegal Lifelong Learning Program. Registration is required. Register online at lifelonglearningcleveland.org or call (216) 226-8275, ext. 127.

Book Discussion— The Sixth Extinction: An Unnatural History

Book by Elizabeth Kolbert

Led by Greg Smith

Tuesday, June 26, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.

Main Library Multipurpose Room

Over the last half a billion years, there have been five mass extinctions, when the diversity of life on earth suddenly and dramatically contracted. Scientists around the world are currently monitoring the sixth extinction, predicted to be the most devastating extinction event since the asteroid impact that wiped out the dinosaurs. This time around, the cataclysm is us. In The Sixth Extinction, New Yorker writer Elizabeth Kolbert draws on the work of scores of researchers in half a dozen disciplines, Kolbert provides a moving account of the disappearances occurring all around us and traces the evolution of extinction as concept. The sixth extinction is likely to be mankind’s most lasting legacy; as Kolbert observes, it compels us to rethink the fundamental question of what it means to be human. Discussion will be led by Greg Smith, professor of Biology at Kent State University whose focuses include Vertebrate Ecology, Wildlife Biology and Conservation Biology.

Sacred Landmarks of Greater Cleveland
Presentation by Tim Barrett
Wednesday, March 21, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

For more than a quarter of a century, Tim Barrett has been the foremost authority on the rich heritage of our area’s houses of worship. His talk will present an overview of the sacred architecture of Greater Cleveland from 1828 to 1950, beginning with our earliest surviving church, St. John’s Episcopal in Ohio City. It will take the story up to the mid-twentieth century as exemplified by Eric Mendelsohn’s Park Synagogue in Cleveland Heights. The core of the presentation will cover some of the spectacular edifices from the turn of the twentieth century such as Lakewood’s St. James Catholic Church and some of the ethnic churches of the city’s east and west sides. Although some of the best has been lost, Greater Clevelanders are fortunate in what has been preserved for future worshippers.

From Spain to Lakewood: The 1918 Flu Pandemic
Presentation by Lakewood Historical Society
Wednesday, May 2, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

“I had a little bird, her name was ‘Enza.’ I opened the window and in-flu-enza.” What began as a joke soon became the deadly Spanish Influenza pandemic of 1918. In the hectic aftermath of the First World War, it emigrated from Europe to the United States. Before it subsided early in 1919, it had spread from coast to coast and was responsible for nearly half a million deaths in America alone. A member of the Lakewood Historical Society will review the history of this classic pandemic with special attention to its effects on Lakewood.

Normandy to the Netherlands: A Fighter Pilot’s View
Presentation by James Frolking
Wednesday, July 25, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

James Frolking has a good reason to remember D-Day. It was on June 6, 1944, that he flew his first mission as a fighter pilot in World War II. In all he would fly fifty-two combat missions with the 479th Fighter Group of America’s 8th Air Force—fifty missions in the P-38 “Lightning” and two in the P-51 “Mustang.” It came to a crashing end when anti-aircraft fire brought him down on October 7, 1944, over German-occupied territory in the Netherlands. Fortunately the Dutch underground got to him before the Germans, and advancing Canadian troops liberated him a few weeks later. Come and hear this story of the “greatest generation” from one of the men who made it great.

Vietnam: An Army Nurse’s Experience
Presentation by Mary Reynolds Powell
Wednesday, August 15, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

As a young American Army nurse, Mary Reynolds Powell went to Vietnam in 1970. She served in the 24th Evacuation Hospital near Saigon during the “winding down” of the Vietnam conflict, when thousands of American troops still made the ultimate sacrifice. Mary described her experiences in the book A World of Hurt: Between Innocence and Arrogance in Vietnam, which was nominated for a Northern Ohio Live Award for Achievement in Writing. “I was there, and reading Mary’s book transported me back in time,” wrote one reader. Those who weren’t there, as well as those who were, will appreciate this first-hand experience of the war recently examined in the Ken Burns series on PBS. Copies of A World of Hurt will be available for sale and signing at this event.

Care (2016)
Directed by Deirdre Fishel
Tuesday, March 20, 2018 at 6:30 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
As average life expectancy increases and the baby boomer generation surpasses retirement age, the topic of elder care is becoming urgently relevant. More people are living longer lives and depend on care and support from others to maintain meaningful lives. How do we as a society care for our growing population of elders? Can we continue to lead fulfilling lives in our old age, and at what cost? It’s clear that there is work to be done to improve the system that is supposed to protect our seniors. Care workers are often a client’s only support and their hard work ensures the elderly may continue to live comfortable lives. Yet many of these workers struggle to care for themselves or their families. Care exposes the imperfect world of home care and the humanity of those who support it. Through personal stories of both patients and care workers, delve into the world of senior living with its faults and triumphs.

Louder Than A Bomb (2010)
Directed by Greg Jacobs
Presented by Damien Ware of Literary Cleveland
Tuesday, April 10, 2018 at 6:30 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Every year, students across Chicago compete in the largest youth poetry slam in the world. From junior high to college age, this event showcases voices from all walks of life in their most honest form. The tournament features an individual poem from each team member and then a group piece performed by four students. Follow the teams and individuals as they prepare and perform original pieces, and tell their stories drawn from experience and hardship. Their poems reveal perspectives to the audience and each other that might otherwise never be heard. This annual event allows young people from all over Chicago to share themselves through spoken art. Damien Ware brings his experience as a poet and performer to share and discuss. Ware is a co-founder of the Buckeye poetry group, The Griot Project, which works to uphold African culture through art and community outreach, and a partner of the installations of public art in the Buckeye neighborhood, Love Lunes Over Buckeye.

Main Library Auditorium
Toxic stress can physically change the human body; it’s the result of abuse or neglect during childhood. Though children may not remember adverse experiences from their early years, their bodies remember. This stress puts children at greater risk of disease, prison time, becoming homeless or even an early death. Resilience features those who are beginning to fight back to protect children from the effects of toxic stress. Through education and therapy, the problems are identified and exposed for the general population to understand and begin to stop. Experts Jim Sporleder and Dr. Nadine Harris demonstrate the facts of trauma and stress and offer solutions to this epidemic. We are joined by a representative from Recovery Resources to discuss the facts of mental health and how you can help. Recovery Resources provides education, counseling, treatment, intervention and other recovery and support services.
Inhabit: A Permaculture Perspective (2015)
Directed by Costa Boutsikaris
Presented by Shanelle Smith of the Trust for Public Land
Tuesday, June 5, 2018 at 6:30 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

Permaculture is a system of design principles using patterns found in natural ecosystems. The objective is to create a more sustainable impact on the environment. Drawing from features of the natural world, humans can become restorative rather than destructive. Inhabit explores the Midwestern and Northeastern areas of the United States where this technique is being utilized for urban, rural and suburban sites. This film features places and people who are taking steps to make agriculture regenerative and leave the planet in better condition than it is now. We are joined by Shanelle Smith from the Trust for Public Land (TPL) to discuss what we can do to protect our natural world. Smith is the Ohio State Director of the TPL. She has previously served as Deputy Director of Cuyahoga Department of Sustainability and as Cleveland Director of Emerald Cities Collaborative. The Trust for Public Land is a nonprofit organization that works with communities to create parks and land that the public can enjoy.

1 in 3 (2010)
Directed by Lagueria Davis
Presented by Laura Cowan of the Cuyahoga Metropolitan Housing Authority
Tuesday, July 3, 2018 at 6:30 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

One in three women experience a situation of domestic violence in their lifetime. It’s a prevalent issue, yet not one often talked about. This film features Ophelia Metz, mother of two, as she escapes her own violent situation. When she leaves, the only place for her family is a shelter. Through the eyes of Ophelia and her Advocate, Sydell Thomas, the intricacies behind this largely undiscovered problem are revealed. 1 in 3 won the 2011 Bare Bones Award at the Bare Bones International Film & Music Festival and was nominated in the Trail Dance Film Festival the same year. Laura Cowan is a long-time activist for survivors of domestic violence, and launched the Laura Cowan Foundation, which raises money to help women and children escaping abusive situations.

The Moment (2017)
Directed by Darcy Hennessey Turenne
Presented by Ryan Sheldon of Beat Cycles
Tuesday, August 21, 2018 at 6:30 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

Freeride is one of the most popular forms of mountain biking. It involves riding a trail in a creative path using tricks and individual style. Freeride biking is closely associated with dirt jumping and downhill biking. However, the direction that mountain biking has headed is one of speed and competition. Although it compares to downhill biking, one of the objectives of freeride is to perform tricks and be creative in your descent. In British Columbia, Canada, three small groups took to the trails to define their own image of the sport. The Moment is the story of how freeride mountain biking came to be and the daring cyclists who challenged the way riding is done. Follow the individuals who paved the way for this daring branch of biking and witness the birth of freeride mountain biking. Ryan Sheldon of Lakewood’s Beat Cycles brings his expertise to the event. Attendees will be gathering at Beat Cycles, 15608 Detroit Road, after the film to continue the conversation.

How to Compost
Presentation by Nathan Rutz
Saturday, June 9, 2018 at 11:00 a.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Composting is a natural way to build healthy soil for your garden and has the added bonus of diverting food waste from landfills. As organic matter decomposes, composting speeds the decomposition process while enriching your soil and reducing your environmental footprint. Reducing food waste through composting also helps improve soil structure and creates a sustainable and flourishing garden. Discover the web of life that exists in your backyard and learn how to start the composting process with help from Nathan Rutz of Rust Belt Riders. Rutz is the Director of Soil at Rust Belt Riders, a local compost collection service that offers commercial food waste producers a logistics-based alternative to landfills that is clean, timely and benefits their community. Since its inception in 2014, Rust Belt Riders has diverted over 500,000 pounds of food from landfills.

How to Interpret Your Dreams
Presentation by Cindy Summer
Saturday, August 11, 2018 at 11:00 a.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Each night as we drift off into sleep, we are given clues to help us navigate the journey of life through the gift of dream. Dreams often provide suggestions on how to solve problems in waking life. Since dreams are usually highly symbolic, we must look at pieces of the dream through careful analysis in order to understand their meaning. Discover an approach to analyzing dreams and understanding their meaning with Cindy Summer. Common dream themes will be explained so that the nonsensical becomes helpful to solving life’s challenges. Summer has appeared on Fox 8, New Day Cleveland and WKYC Channel 3 to explain common dream themes and interpret viewers’ dreams on-air. She is a renowned psychic, energy worker, and holistic consultant with a healing studio in Lakewood. Her goal is to empower her clients while healing with words.
National Poetry Month Programs
The Library is bringing back our National Poetry Month celebration. This year we are including more readings, workshops and activities. We are also highlighting another interesting Cleveland poet: d.a. levy. You won’t be able to resist the inspiration!

Poetry Workshops
Led by Leanne Hoppe
Tuesdays: April 3, 2018; April 10, 2018; April 17, 2018 and April 24, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Multipurpose Room

“There is a house that is no more a house, / Upon a farm that is no more a farm / And in a town that is no more a town. / The road there, if you’ll let a guide direct you / Who only has at heart your getting lost, / May seem as if it should have been a quarry” – Robert Frost. Writing poetry is about the journey, not the destination. Part of that journey is seeing what you’ll discover, surprising yourself and enjoying the bumps in the road. Leanne Hoppe will be your poet tour guide on this adventure—all abilities and experience levels are welcome. Hoppe, who teaches at Lorain County Community College, received her master’s degree in creative writing from Boston University, and her work appears or is forthcoming in Bayou Magazine, Gravel and Driftwood Press. Her translations of the Italian poet Michela Zanarella were published in 2017 by Bordighera Press.

The Lakewood Public Library Letterpress Prophet: A community art project inspired by the work of d.a. levy
The Month of April
Main Library Atrium

In celebration of National Poetry Month, as well as in appreciation for our local poetic heritage, we will be curating and publishing a unique written and visual project: The Lakewood Public Library Letterpress Prophet! Inspired by the art of underground newspaper printer and celebrated Cleveland poet d.a. levy, this collaborative art project will center around collage and mixed-media visual art, accompanied by poetry, of course! Artists of the Northeast Ohio region may submit one-of-a-kind poems, collages, photos, and drawings throughout the month of April. We will curate the piece based on style and content reminiscent of d.a. levy’s underground newspaper, The Buddhist Third Class Junkmail Oracle. We will have a station for submissions of poetry and artwork in the Main Library Atrium, as well as a cubby behind the Main Library Circulation Desk for artwork that is too large or delicate to put in a submission box.

Clouds Pile Up in the North: New & Selected Poems
Book by Major ‘Maj’ Ragain
Thursday, April 12, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

Maj Ragain is the author of seven chapbooks of poetry and five book-length collections, all of which contribute to Clouds Pile Up in the North: New & Selected Poems. Lisa Coffman, author of Less Obvious Gods says, “These poems hold so lightly what can’t be held—old queen asleep in her milkweed chamber, the full Hunter’s moon, Secondhand Rose and February dusk, the dragon’s egg nestled against the breastbone, the lost silver earring among the flowers. You will find in this book thirst and burning air, songs in the key of High Lonesome, truths maybe we were afraid to want, and a top-down fast-ride in the convertible of Delight. Friend, Fellow Traveler, if you wished to know whether there was a place set for you at the banquet, let me point you toward Maj Ragain’s poems. They are sustenance. They are sweet mortal joy.” Ragain has served for more than thirty years as host to open poetry readings currently at Last Exit Books. Books will be available for sale and signing at this event.

WordStage: d.a. levy
Sunday, April 15, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

In 1960s Cleveland, poets haunted coffee shops, printed zines with mimeographs and frequently ran into trouble with the law. There were many talented yet troubled writers in Cleveland, but none more infamous than d.a. levy. Though charged with distributing obscene writing in 1966, levy was a strong believer in Buddhism and a champion of justice. levy continued to document Cleveland’s gritty charm and rough interior through his poetry, founding Cleveland’s first underground newspaper, the Buddhist Third-Class Junkmail Oracle. Through that medium, he published scores of powerful poetic voices of the decade. He was a force to be reckoned with in the creative community of the time, and continues to inspire artists from Northeast Ohio and beyond. WordStage is a chamber music reader’s theater, dedicated to the presentation of works with special literary, historical and musical merit.
Coast Line: Poetry Reading Series

Last year the Library recognized National Poetry Month by creating our own poetry reading series. Once we got started we couldn’t stop. This season we have invited even more poets to keep the verses coming during Coast Line: Poetry Reading Series, Lakewood Public Library’s showcase of our community’s poetic talent.

Diane Vogel Ferri is a teacher, writer and poet. Her essays have been published in Scene Magazine, and Cleveland Christmas Memories among others. She is the author of the poetry chapbook, Liquid Rubies, and the novel The Desire Path. She is a founding member of Literary Cleveland.

Ryan Pearl has been active in the Cleveland literary community since 2010. His work has appeared in The City Poetry, Brandt 21 and the GTK Creative Journal. His writing attempts to weave between the tangible and the ethereal to bring some insight or at least attention to things often overlooked.

Coast Line: August Reading
Readings by Kazim Ali, Sarah Gridley and Mary Owen
Wednesday, August 1, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

Kazim Ali is a poet, editor and prose writer. His volumes of poetry include Sky Ward, winner of the Ohioana Book Award in Poetry and The Far Mosque, winner of Alice James Books’ New England/New York Award. Ali is a regular columnist for the American Poetry Review. He is an Associate Professor of Creative Writing and Comparative Literature at Oberlin University.

Sarah Gridley is an Associate Professor of English at Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland. She is the author of Weather Eye Open, Green is the Orator and Loom. Her latest poems appear or are forthcoming in New England Review, The Hampden-Sidney Review, Bennington Review and concis. Gridley is working on a new manuscript, Insofar, which is inspired by ordinary language philosophy, environmental humanities and phenomenology.

Mary Owen is a poet, musician, performance artist, fine artist assistant, autodidact and audiophile. Owen holds a certificate in broadcast arts and studied English at Cleveland State University. Her work is candid, raw, witty and deeply personal. She draws her inspiration from things in her daily life that to most would go unnoticed such as the way the train moves, a drop of rain on a person’s glasses or a couple arguing.
Mental Health Awareness Month

Mental Health Awareness Month has been observed in May in the United States since 1949. The Library wants to join in the effort to create awareness, defeat stigma and provide resources. These programs will provide a combination of helpful information about mental health and opportunities to participate in some self-care activities.

Meditation is shown to reduce anxiety and stress, leading to balanced living and a healthier life. Developing a meditative practice is one step toward establishing a healthier state of mental well being by increasing one’s internal awareness. Meditation allows time for self-reflection and can benefit individuals. Ddeani Feighan has studied meditation and energetic medicine for the past ten years. She is a Reiki Master and a Registered Polarity Practitioner. She practices Elemental Reflexology and Holistic Counseling.

Mental Health in Cleveland
Presentation by National Alliance on Mental Illness
Tuesday, May 15, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.
The topic of mental illness tends to carry a heavy stigma. Those who struggle are often afraid to seek help for fear of judgement or isolation. In order to eradicate this stigma, there needs to be open dialogue about the facts of mental health and what we can do to help. The National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) is the largest mental health organization in the nation. Since 1979, they’ve spoken out about mental illness and have grown to every state in the U.S. Through education, support groups, patient advocacy and research, NAMI works to empower those who suffer and help them achieve a better quality of living. NAMI Greater Cleveland, a branch of NAMI, has around 800 members and is run almost solely on services provided by volunteers and family members. A representative from NAMI Greater Cleveland joins us to speak to the truth behind mental illness and disenfranchised groups.

The Human Legacy: Destruction vs. Conservation

It is obvious that humanity’s choices have a lasting impact on our Earth. We see evidence of this through species extinction and climate change. These programs are designed to both look back on some of these choices and their impact and look ahead at what each of us can do to have a positive lasting impact.

Book Discussion — The Sixth Extinction: An Unnatural History

Book by Elizabeth Kolbert

Led by Greg Smith

Tuesday, June 26, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.

Main Library Multipurpose Room

Over the last half a billion years, there have been five mass extinctions, when the diversity of life on earth suddenly and dramatically contracted. Scientists around the world are currently monitoring the sixth extinction, predicted to be the most devastating extinction event since the asteroid impact that wiped out the dinosaurs. This time around, the cataclysm is us. In The Sixth Extinction, Elizabeth Kolbert draws on the work of scores of researchers in half a dozen disciplines, accompanying many of them into the field. She introduces us to a dozen species, some already gone, others facing extinction. Kolbert provides a moving account of the disappearances occurring all around us and traces the evolution of extinction as concept. The sixth extinction is likely to be mankind’s most lasting legacy; and it compels us to rethink the fundamental question of what it means to be human. Discussion will be led by Greg Smith, professor of Biology at Kent State University whose focuses include Vertebrate Ecology, Wildlife Biology and Conservation Biology.

Faces of Conservation

Presented by Judy Semroc

Tuesday, June 12, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.

Main Library Auditorium

Judy Semroc is a conservation specialist with the Cleveland Museum of Natural History. As part of the library’s focus on The Human Legacy, Semroc presents the Faces of Conservation, which features creatures affected by human activity. With macro photography, she captures the “faces” of these species and their important roles in the environment. Semroc will expand on these organisms which are vital to their ecosystems as well as practices that can be implemented to protect them. A lover of knowledge and nature, and a former middle school teacher, Semroc has spent most of her life helping others learn the importance of protecting the environment. She founded Operation Botanic Rescue, Quail Hollow Land Conservancy, and the first Ohio chapter of the North American Butterfly Association, “Chrysalis in Time.”

The Gentle Subversive: Rachel Carson, Silent Spring, and the Rise of the Environmental Movement

Literature Series presented by Cheryl Wires

Wednesdays: June 13, 2018; June 20, 2018 and June 27, 2018 at 7:00 p.m.

Main Library Multipurpose Room

In this three-week series, we’ll discuss The Gentle Subversive, Mark Hamilton Lytle’s account of Rachel Carson’s life and legacy. By writing Silent Spring, this woman scientist reluctantly challenged the use of pesticides in the 1960s. Carson sparked a fierce debate a half century ago, which inspired the creation of the environmental movement and resonates in our current conversations about public policies. Join our four part discussion and learn how Carson’s life and success make her a heroine for all seasons. Cheryl Wires attended Harvard University, where she earned a Master’s Degree from the Kennedy School of Government, a Master’s Degree in political science from the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, and the Levenson Award for Excellence and Dedication in Teaching. She is currently an instructor with Case Western Reserve University’s Laura and Alvin Siegal Lifelong Learning Program. Registration is required. Who are the Friends of Lakewood Public Library?
The Friends of Lakewood Public Library are a group of volunteers who raise funds for Library programs and services, primarily through seasonal sales of donated books and other materials. With reduced prices on books, magazines, compact discs and DVDs, the sales are a bargain hunter’s dream.

Donations come from multiple sources, and books range in age from vintage to brand new. Sale proceeds support Lakewood Public Library’s acclaimed programming, including free lectures, concerts, films and youth programs, as well as the Library van, which delivers books to classrooms and homebound readers.

The Friends also participate in community outreach programs with organizations that support worthy causes such as early childhood literacy and healthy lifestyles for children.

For a nominal amount, citizens can join the Friends and gain admission to preview book sales, which precede sales to the general public.

To learn more about the Friends, please visit lakewoodpubliclibrary.org/friends.

Wallace Coleman
Sunday, March 4, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

As a youth in eastern Tennessee where country and western music still prevails, Wallace Coleman was instead captivated by the sounds he heard from his radio late at night. It was Nashville’s WLAC, and they were playing the Blues. The sounds haunted him by day where, he says, “I would be sittin’ in class and hear Howlin’ Wolf singin’ just as clear in my head.” Cleveland Blues royalty Robert Lockwood Jr. said he would never hire a harmonica player, then he heard Coleman play. Coleman toured with Lockwood for the next ten years before forming his own band.

The Squirrel Hillbillies
Sunday, March 11, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

From deep within the urban forest of Pittsburgh’s East End, the Squirrel Hillbillies often emerge to share their eclectic mix of folk, country and blues. Rabidly social and clawingly curious, they relish opportunities to interact with diverse audiences. The duo has been writing, arranging and performing original music together since 2010. Through a collaborative, nonlinear songwriting process, partners Jenny Wolsk and Gary Crouth draw from personal experiences, third-hand stories and vivid imaginations to craft songs that are unpredictable and quirky, yet widely accessible.

Anne E. DeChant
Sunday, March 18, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

“Now there’s a woman with fire in her belly,” Cleveland Plain Dealer writes of Anne E. DeChant. DeChant is an award-winning Nashville recording artist originally from Cleveland where she was a five-time Singer-Songwriter of the Year. She has played venues ranging from the Clinton White House to such storied listening rooms as Nashville’s Bluebird Café. DeChant began her career, which now spans more than twenty years, as the dynamic lead singer for the folk-rock band, Odd Girl Out. Since going solo in 1997, she has released eight critically acclaimed studio albums, including her most recent The Sun Coming In.
The Chardon Polka Band
Sunday, March 25, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
A polka band with attitude, The Chardon Polka Band breathes new life into the polka genre with their offbeat antics and one of kind style. Performing polka favorites with new energy and excitement, this is a great concert for polka aficionados and non-polka-fans alike. The band's range of style is as eccentric as its members. The Chardon Polka Band plays traditional polkas, but sometimes morphs into punk-rock renditions of the same songs. They throw in comedic renditions of oddball favorites, and even polka-rock covers of anything from Twisted Sister’s “We’re Not Gonna Take It” to Lady Gaga’s “Bad Romance”!

The Chris Vance Quartet
Sunday, April 8, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Like Sebastian in the award winning film La La Land, the only way we can describe jazz is “It’s conflict and compromise! It’s very exciting!” Longtime Lakewood musician Chris Vance leads an all-star quartet as they play on existing melodies and rhythms with the goal of creating something new together. Vance, the owner of Vance Music Studios on Madison Avenue, is an adjunct music professor at both Cleveland State University and Cuyahoga Community College. Using their unique interpretation of a wide selection of the jazz repertoire, as well as their own compositions, Vance and other Cleveland greats will fill the afternoon with excitement.

WordStage: d.a. levy
Sunday, April 15, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
In 1960s Cleveland, poets haunted coffee shops, printed zines with mimeographs and frequently ran into trouble with the law. There were many talented, yet troubled writers in Cleveland, but none were more infamous than d.a. levy. Though charged with distributing obscene writing in 1966, levy was a strong believer in Buddhism and a champion of justice. levy continued to document Cleveland’s gritty charm and rough interior through his poetry, founding Cleveland’s first underground newspaper, the Buddhist Third-Class Junkmail Oracle. Through that medium, he published scores of powerful poetic voices of the decade. He was a force to be reckoned with in the creative community of the time, and continues to inspire artists from Northeast Ohio and beyond. WordStage is a chamber music reader’s theater, dedicated to the presentation of works with special literary, historical and musical merit.

The Clifton Beat
Sunday, April 22, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
The Clifton Beat is a rock and power pop band comprised of four veteran music-makers from Lakewood. The band is made up of guitarists Bill Rouse and David Lowery, bassist Mark Bluhm and drummer Paul Nickels. Their influences are as broad as rock and roll itself. Like the groups that came before them – the Beatles, the Byrds, the Rolling Stones – the Clifton Beat features tight arrangements, edgy guitars and well-conceived harmonies. With three writers, The Clifton Beat’s set, comprised of a large majority of original songs, really covers the waterfront of power pop. Be on the lookout, these locals might just Abbey Road their way across Detroit Avenue to the Library.
The Cleveland Opera: Marriage by Lantern-Light
Sunday, April 29, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Marriage by Lantern-Light or rather, Le mariage aux lanternes, is a comic opérette in one act by Jacques Offenbach sung in English. This delightfully hilarious score stars a young farmer, Guillot, who has affection for his orphan cousin Denise. He hides his feelings by treating her roughly, driving the young girl to despair. Both write to their uncle: him for money, her for advice. Two gossiping widows, Catherine and Fanchette, poke fun at the doltishness of Guillot. But when he receives a letter from his uncle telling him about treasure that may be found under the great tree when the evening church bells peal, the two women determine to win Guillot’s hand. Cleveland Opera Theater makes opera accessible, affordable engaging and fun throughout Northeast Ohio.

Judy Crawford: Rodgers & Hammerstein Showcase
Sunday, May 6, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Rodgers and Hammerstein’s prolific work on Broadway has been enjoyed by audiences for over seventy years. The golden age of musical theatre was created in large part due to the talent of two men, composer Richard Rodgers and lyricist-dramatist Oscar Hammerstein II. The duo earned thirty-four Tony Awards, fifteen Academy Awards, a Pulitzer Prize and two Grammy Awards for their stage work and film adaptations. Vocalist Judy Crawford will perform highlights from Rodgers and Hammerstein’s musical repertoire including South Pacific, The King and I, Oklahoma, Showboat and Carousel. Crawford has entertained audiences for years with her vocal tributes to classic entertainers.

Qwik Sil-ver
Sunday, May 13, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Since its inception eleven years ago, Qwik Sil-ver has been rocking Northeast Ohio stages including The Ohio State Fair, The Cleveland Agora, Summit County Fair, Crocker Park, Mantua Potato Festival, Mapleside Farms’ Johnny Appleseed Festival, 100th Bomb Group and Taste of Hudson. Combine a soulful guitar, tight rhythm section, horns (yes horns), and the sweet sultry voice of band leader Saam Cabot and you have the Qwik Sil-ver experience. Covering a diverse range of artists — B.B. King, The Marshall Tucker Band, Janis Joplin, Bob Dylan, Cyndi Lauper, Stevie Ray Vaughn, Al Green, Rolling Stones — every performance is a unique high energy show.

Moustache Yourself
Sunday, May 20, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Moustache Yourself is a gypsy jazz and swing band based in Northeast Ohio. Gypsy jazz, also known as gypsy swing, hot club jazz, or by the French name, “Jazz Manouche” (not to be confused with Jazz Moustache), is a style of jazz music made famous by guitarist Django Reinhardt in the 1930s. Its infectious rhythm and exotic but familiar melodies will capture your soul and transport you to a different time and place. Band members (nearly all of whom wear moustaches, a staple in the gypsy jazz lifestyle), are on a mission to incorporate the entire history of gypsy jazz into an eclectic mix of songs ranging from the style’s beginnings to present day.
Diana Chittester
Sunday, June 3, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Singer-songwriter Diana Chittester is renowned both for her vocals and her energetic acoustic guitar-playing. Her solo show is brought to life by her signature percussive multi-part playing, mimicking a full band on a solo acoustic guitar, without the help of loopers or other technological tricks, while blending intelligent lyrics and storytelling that engages the audience. She was dubbed a “Guitar God” by Skinny Devil Magazine and “a complex guitar acrobat” by ArtVoice Magazine. Chittester says about her performances that, “as a solo performer trying to bring a full band energy to single acoustic guitar, I play hard, loud, but with precision.”

Brent Kirby
Sunday, June 10, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Brent Kirby is a night’s stroll with a rock n’ roll romantic. This does not mean Kirby’s merely a smitten troubadour, or a bard for the wayward but colorful life of musicians. Though his own songs bring up those immortal topics, Kirby’s romanticism is much bigger than that. His songs start with the introspective stir of strum and voice, but just like his performances, quickly move outward and embrace the listener. A fixture of the Cleveland music scene and one of Cleveland’s hardest working musicians and passionate original music advocates, Kirby will perform his songs and talk about the stories behind them.

Adam Miller Folk Music
Sunday, June 17, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
One of the premier autoharpists in the world, Adam Miller is a renowned American folksinger and natural-born storyteller. Miller accompanies his rich, resonant baritone voice with lively finger-picking acoustic guitar and stunningly beautiful autoharp melodies. Immersed in the oral tradition, Miller is mostly self-taught and learns just about everything by ear. Throughout his long career, he has documented and kept alive the thousands of songs and stories he has collected in his travels. He has distinguished himself as one of the great interpreters of American folksongs and folktales. Miller’s folksongs and ballads are the songs of America’s heritage: a window into the soul of our nation in its youth.

Jody, John, and George
Sunday, June 24, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Every couple of months, Jody Getz, John Lucic and George Lee each bring a new song for their trio to learn. Recently, Lee chose a 1960s Jimi Hendrix rock song, Lucic chose a Bull Moose Jackson big band novelty tune and Getz chose a slick CeeLo Green pop song. This eclectic mix is exactly what defines and fuels this trio. Jody, John and George met at a jam night at a local coffee shop. Soon their love for vocal harmony and naturally blended voices made them want to play and sing together more. Part rock, blues, folk, standard, jazz, original and pop music, it’s difficult to say what kind of music they play, but it sure is a lot of fun.
Three Strands
Sunday, July 1, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Love, loss and community have a looming influence over what we find true and good. Through honest and simplistic arrangements and strong influences from the American folk revival as well as early gospel and blues traditions, Three Strands is a project that exists to dredge those deep waters in search for the strands that unite us all. This project is led by Sean Cox, who counts Henry David Thoreau as one of his influences. We have a feeling Cox will fit right in at his first performance at Lakewood Public Library.

Brian Henke
Sunday, July 8, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Brian is considered by many to be the guru of fingerstyle guitar, but his talent doesn’t stop there. He is also a solo acoustic guitarist, harp guitarist, singer, songwriter and instrumental composer. His unique guitar style has been called everything from folk to new age to neo-classical to pastoral, or as Henke likes to call it, “a big stewpot of everything, stirred up and served to taste.” His music appeals to anyone who likes music lyrical, thought provoking and performed with virtuosity.

Twain by Two
Sunday, July 15, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
“Truth is stranger than fiction, but it is because Fiction is obliged to stick to possibilities; Truth isn’t.” - Mark Twain. Mark Dawidziak has produced this one-act collection of material by Mark Twain, performed by Largely Literary Theater Company co-founders Dawidziak and Sara Showman. It features excerpts from Huckleberry Finn and Eve’s Diary, and the performance promises to be all fiction of the strange variety. No less an authority than Ken Burns has said, “Nobody gets Mark Twain the way Mark Dawidziak does.” It’s not exaggeration. Mark Twain is coming to the Library.

Casually Late Stampede
Sunday, July 22, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Casually Late Stampede is a short form improv group based out of the Mayfield Village Civic Center, but they have explored bars, coffee shops and basements across Northeast Ohio. Now they are adding libraries to the list! Casually Late Stampede creates explosive scenes from nothing more than a word from their audience. They bring high energy, physical and hysterical improv to their Whose Line is it Anyway style shows. And they promise, they won’t be fashionably, or even casually, late for this performance!

Victor Samalot
Sunday, July 29, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Victor Samalot is an acoustic guitar instrumentalist mixing Latin, Jazz, Light Rock, World, improvisations and live looping from Cleveland. He reinvented his sound in 2010, launching his solo career after cofounding a Jazz Rock Fusion instrumental group called Rare Blend. Samalot switched from electric to acoustic guitar and this time called upon his Latin roots but kept his fusion sensibilities by incorporating the fundamentals of Jazz and Rock. Fresh and contemporary, he appeals to listeners of world fusion music.
North Coast Winds
Sunday, August 5, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
From the shores of Lake Erie, the North Coast Winds (NCW) has emerged as a dynamic player in the cultural and educational fabric of Northeast Ohio and beyond. Formed by five alumni of the Cleveland Institute of Music in 2013, NCW’s commitment to inspired music-making, memorable educational programming and connecting with the broadest possible audiences has led the group across the United States in performances and residences. Awarded second prize at the Yellow Springs Competition for Emerging Professional Ensembles, NCW has delighted listeners in beautiful concert halls, gardens, libraries, hospitals, museums, historic homes and hotels and on the radio. Its highly accomplished and versatile members also perform with orchestras throughout the region. From their ever growing repertoire the group will perform “Of Mountains and Rivers”. This performance features Cleveland composer Eric Ewazen’s Roaring Fork Quintet and other evoke music for winds relating to nature landscapes.

The Cleveland Dance Project
Sunday, August 12, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
The Cleveland Dance Project (CDP) is a dance, choreography and performance outlet for dancers who want to continue performing and/or choreographing into their adult life. Their dance family includes everyone from the dance teacher, to the dance professional, to the person who’s always wanted to boogie but never had the opportunity until now. CDP’s mission is to provide a fun, yet professional, environment for dancers of all styles to come together as a community, to help them find a balance between work and home lives and following their passions, while allowing them the opportunity to showcase their creations together to their friends, family and the greater Cleveland area. The dancers have put together a special performance for their first appearance in Lakewood!

Women in History: Julia Boggs Dent Grant
Sunday, August 19, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
A biography was released in late 2017 by famed biographer Ron Chernow, featuring Ulysses S. Grant, 18th President of the United States. This program will shift the focus to President Grant’s wife, Julia Boggs Dent Grant. She was known as a determined woman who, despite family objections, married the man she loved. Outspoken, she also created her own plans for ending the Civil War and holding a secret Presidential Inauguration. Women in History is a non-profit corporation founded in Lakewood, and dedicated to the education of all people through the dramatic re-creation of lives of notable women in U.S. history.

Havana Nights Orchestra
Sunday, August 26, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
With the recent death of leader Fidel Castro, Cuba has slowly opened its doors to the outside world. That only means the intrigue has grown about the Caribbean island nation and its fascinating, vibrant and complex culture. No other sounds can represent the dog days of summer – the heat, the long days – better than the music of Cuba, which is often considered one of the richest and most influential regional music of the world. The Havana Nights Orchestra performs music in the traditional Latin, Afro-Cuban and salsa styles. Led by local musician Chris Vance, the Havana Nights Orchestra will have you dancing in the aisles and moving your feet until the sun goes down over the Solstice Steps.
Double Indemnity (1944)
Directed by Billy Wilder
Saturday, March 3, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

An ordinary house call to a client turns sinister as soon as Walter Neff (Fred Mac Murray) meets the client’s conniving wife, Phyllis Dietrichson (Barbara Stanwyck). Phyllis intends to take out a life insurance policy on her husband, kill him, and collect the payout. Walter falls under her spell and is roped into her murderous scheme. The perfect plan turns complicated when Phyllis’s stepdaughter Lola (Jean Heather) begins to suspect foul play. In 1998, American Film Institute selected a jury of 1,500 film artists, critics and historians to publish a list of the 100 Greatest American Films of All Time. This season we will share selections from the 10th Anniversary Edition of the List, which was released in 2007.

To Catch a Thief (1955)
Directed by Alfred Hitchcock
Saturday, March 10, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

By the middle of the 1950s, Alfred Hitchcock had established himself as one of the world’s foremost filmmakers. As he began the second half of the decade, he decided to add the new medium of television to his list of accomplishments. Terry Meehan’s new series, Hitchcock in the Fifties, Part 2, follows the Master of Suspense as he continues his incredibly creative journey through the decade. We begin with a romantic thriller that features two of his favorite leading actors, Cary Grant and Grace Kelly. John Robie (Grant) is a retired jewel thief and Frances Stevens (Kelly) is a tourist on the Riviera who likes to accessorize with big-ticket baubles. Meehan will introduce each film with an original video presentation, followed by audience reaction and a lively discussion.

The Bribe (1949)
Directed by Robert Z. Leonard
Saturday, March 17, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

On the flight to a Central American island, Federal agent Rigby (Robert Taylor) and fellow passenger Carwood (Vincent Price) strike up a conversation. Rigby’s mission is to find American citizens “Tug” Hintten (John Hodiak) and wife Elizabeth (Ava Gardner), suspects in the theft of aircraft engines. It’s not long before J.J. Bealer (Charles Laughton) shadows the agent. J.J. shows his hand and dangles ten thousand dollars if Rigby agrees to leave the island of Carlotta. Rigby declines. In the meantime, he and Elizabeth have become lovers. J.J. won’t quit. He ups the ante to twelve thousand. Rigby won’t bite. J.J. takes a different tack and plays his ace. Barbara Steffek-Hill presents a series of classic and contemporary films from her personal favorites.

Amélie (2000)
Directed by Jean-Pierre Jeunet
Saturday, March 24, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

Amélie Poulain (Audrey Tautou) is a shy waitress who has lived a life filled with solitude and fanciful dreams. When she moves into her Parisian apartment and finds a treasure left by the former occupant, she makes it her mission to return the item. One good deed leads to a string of escapades as she begins to orchestrate the lives of those around her. Her desire to spread happiness consumes her until she realizes that she is disregarding her own life and desires in order to fulfill the needs of others. As she seeks to find the rightful owner of a box of photos, Amélie meets Nino Quincampoix (Mathieu Kassovitz), a quirky young man who reminds her that the pursuit of happiness requires not only fanciful ideas, but initiative. In French with English subtitles.
2001: A Space Odyssey (1968)
Directed by Stanley Kubrick
Saturday, March 31, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
When a large black monolith is found buried on the surface of the moon, humankind is left wondering where it came from. A team of astronauts aboard the spaceship Discovery One set out to unveil the mystery. The team is led by Dave Bowman (Keir Dullea) and Gary Lockwood (Frank Poole), but the most important team member is HAL 9000, an artificial intelligence computer who controls all of the functions of the craft. The fight between humanity and technology is in full swing as the astronauts and HAL fight for control of the ship, and ultimately, survival. This film continues our selections from AFI’s Greatest American Films of All Time.

Goodfellas (1990)
Directed by Martin Scorsese
Saturday, April 7, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Mobster Henry Hill (Ray Liotta) begins his life of crime as a gofer for the local mob boss Paul “Paulie” Cicero (Paul Sorvino). Upon initiation into the crime family he is introduced to his partners Tommy DeVito (Joe Pesci) and Jimmy Conway (Robert DeNiro). Henry quickly becomes the target of Paulie, a rival crime family and the feds. The men he admired from youth turn against him as he finds himself faced with the tough choice to become a rat or endanger his loved ones. This film continues our selections from AFI’s Greatest American Films of All Time.

The Trouble with Harry (1955)
Directed by Alfred Hitchcock
Saturday, April 14, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
The “trouble” is that Harry’s dead body inconveniently appears one autumn afternoon on a hillside in scenic New England. How did he die? How did his body get there? And what should be done about it? These are the questions that must be answered by the quirky residents of Highwater, Vermont. The colorful cast is led by Sam Marlowe (John Forsythe), an eccentric artist who wants to undress and paint Jennifer Rogers (Shirley MacLaine). Hitchcock, who likes to combine humor and horror, leans heavily toward the former in this outing. Terry Meehan continues his series on Hitchcock in the Fifties Part 2, introducing each film with an original video presentation, followed by audience reaction and a lively discussion.

Departures (2008)
Directed by Yoshiro Takita
Saturday, April 21, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Daigo Kobayashi (Masahiro Motoki) is a talented cellist until his orchestra is abruptly dissolved, leaving him unemployed. Accepting defeat, Daigo moves back to his hometown with his wife Miya (Ryôko Hirosue) to start over. When searching for work Daigo sees a job advertisement for what he assumes to be a travel agency called “Departures.” Upon discovering that the job actually consists of preparing the dead for their final resting place, Daigo accepts the position. Although his newfound work is deemed “unclean” by his wife and family, Daigo finds his role as a gatekeeper between life and death to be a noble task. As those around him question his decisions, Daigo uncovers the meaning of life in an unlikely place. In Japanese with English subtitles.
The Treasure of the Sierra Madre (1948)
Directed by John Huston
Saturday, April 28, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Fred C. Dobbs (Humphrey Bogart) and Bob Curtin (Tim Holt) are down-and-out Americans in Mexico looking for work. When they run into a grizzled old prospector named Howard (Walter Huston), he piques their interest with tales of his gold-hunting experiences. The three Americans buy the tools they need and set off in search of a fortune with the promise to split their future windfall three ways. Along the way they are thwarted by bandits, the elements and their own greed. This film continues our selections from AFI’s Greatest American Films of All Time.

Mr. Smith Goes to Washington (1939)
Directed by Frank Capra
Saturday, May 5, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Idealistic Jefferson Smith (James Stewart) is thrust into the spotlight as a United States Senator despite a total lack of political clout. The country bumpkin is blind-sided by the fact that his appointment is not due to his own success, but to the manipulative workings of Washington. He is shocked by the corruption among the high-ranking officials and takes on a personal mission to expose them despite the risk to his own career. This film continues our selections from AFI’s Greatest American Films of All Time.

Alfred Hitchcock Presents (TV) (1955)
Directed by Alfred Hitchcock
Saturday, May 12, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
By 1955, Alfred Hitchcock had completed dozens of films, dating back to the silent era; and in each one, he made his signature cameo appearance. For most people, however, the first time anyone ever heard his voice was on the evening of October 2, 1955 when he introduced the premier broadcast of his legendary TV series. We will view three of his favorite episodes, including one he directed himself, “Lamb to the Slaughter” starring Barbara Bel Geddes. The other two are “Right Kind of House” and “The Glass Eye.” Terry Meehan continues his series on Hitchcock in the Fifties Part 2, introducing each presentation with an original video program followed by audience reaction and a lively discussion.

In a Lonely Place (1950)
Directed by Nicholas Ray
Saturday, May 19, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
At any given moment, screenwriter Dix Steele (Humphrey Bogart) can explode into a rage. So far he’s been given a pass, but when a woman last known to be in his apartment is murdered, suspicion falls upon him. Neighbor Laurel Gray (Gloria Grahame) saw her leave Dix’s place alone and tells police. After initial verbal sparring, Dix and Laurel begin a romance. Little by little, Laurel witnesses bits and pieces of Dix’s dark side. She tries to brush aside mounting anxieties and confides in a friend. His agent tries to quell her doubts. After angering Dix, Laurel finally sees him erupt. Although she tries to act as if nothing happened, Dix notices a change in Laurel’s demeanor and pushes for an immediate marriage. Barbara Steffek-Hill presents a series of classic and contemporary films from her personal favorites.
Partition (2007)
Directed by Vic Sarin
Saturday, May 26, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
In 1947, the Partition of India displaced millions as the fight for religious freedom led to violence and crisis. Determined to leave the ravages of war behind, Gian Singh (Jimi Mistry) resigns from the British Indian Army in pursuit of a quieter life. When he unexpectedly comes across Naseem (Kristin Kreuk), a young Muslim refugee in hiding, he must decide whether to let cultural taboos or human kindness dictate his decisions. The two bond over their mutual suffering despite their religious and cultural differences. Together they face hatred and familial conflict that will test the strength of their relationship and their love.

A Clockwork Orange (1971)
Directed by Stanley Kubrick
Saturday, June 2, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Decaying cities and murderous adolescents are the everyday reality in a futuristic Britain. Teenager Alex DeLarge (Malcolm McDowell) leads a gang of young thugs. His criminal escapades catch up with him, and he is found guilty of murder. While imprisoned, Alex agrees to undergo a behavior-modification program intended to cure his criminal nature. Upon release, Alex is cured of his violent tendencies and is taken under the care of Mr. Alexander (Patrick Magee), but his violent past is far from over. This film continues our selections from AFI’s Greatest American Films of All Time.

The Man Who Knew Too Much (1956)
Directed by Alfred Hitchcock
Saturday, June 9, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Hitchcock remade his own 1934 film of the same name. Dr. Benjamin McKenna (Jamie Stewart) and Josephine McKenna (Doris Day) become involved with spies while vacationing in Morocco. The master told François Truffaut that “the first version is the work of a talented amateur and the second was made by a professional.” This version won an Academy Award for Best Song for “Que Sera, Sera,” sung by Doris Day. Unlike many Oscar-winning songs, this one played a key role in the film’s storyline. Terry Meehan continues his series on Hitchcock in the Fifties Part 2, introducing each film with an original video presentation, followed by audience reaction and a lively discussion.

Il Postino (1994)
Directed by Michael Radford
Saturday, June 16, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
When famous exiled Chilean poet Pablo Neruda (Philippe Noiret) sets up house in an Italian seaside village, Mario Ruoppolo (Massimo Troisi) delivers mail exclusively to him. The shy, gentle postman can read and write but is otherwise poorly educated. During one of their conversations, Mario asks new friend Neruda for an explanation of the word metaphor. A new world opens for Mario. He sees metaphors everywhere, even to the point of using them to woo beautiful café worker Beatrice Russo (Maria Grazia Cucinotta). Her straight-laced aunt finds a poem Mario has written for Beatrice. Horrified by its content, she forbids Beatrice any further contact with the man she believes to be a moral degenerate. In Italian with English subtitles. Join Barbara Steffek-Hill for an educational discussion of the film along with the screening.
On the Waterfront (1954)
Directed by Elia Kazan
Saturday, June 23, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

Terry Malloy (Marlon Brando) is a washed-up boxer turned dockworker who witnesses a murder orchestrated by his corrupt union boss Johnny Friendly (Lee J. Cobb). Upon meeting the dead man’s sister, Terry falls in love with the beautiful Edie Doyle (Eva Marie Saint). His newfound attraction also brings a sense of obligation and feelings of guilt. With the help of Edie and local priest Father Barry (Karl Malden), Terry intends to take down the union bosses and regain responsibility for his own actions. This film continues our selections from AFI’s Greatest American Films of All Time.

Do the Right Thing (1989)
Directed by Spike Lee
Saturday, June 30, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

A hot summer Sunday in a Brooklyn neighborhood is complicated by heating racial tensions. Mookie (Spike Lee) is always at the center of the action in his role as pizza delivery man for pizzeria proprietor Sal Fragione (Danny Aiello). The neighborhood has a full cast of characters including Da Mayor (Ossie Davis), Buggin’ Out (Giancarlo Esposito), and Sal’s son Pino (John Turturro). A simple complaint about the lack of diversity in the restaurant décor leads to violence and frustration as the neighborhood struggles to establish a racial identity. This film continues our selections from AFI’s Greatest American Films of All Time.

King Kong (1933)
Directed by Merian C. Cooper and Ernest B. Schoedsack
Saturday, July 7, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

Successful filmmaker Carl Denham (Robert Armstrong) travels with his crew to an exotic tropical island to shoot his latest blockbuster. Skull Island is home to a massive gorilla who becomes infatuated with the film’s leading lady Ann Darrow (Fay Wray). When the islanders kidnap Ann and offer her as a sacrifice to the mighty Kong, it is up to the ship’s first mate Jack Driscoll (Bruce Cabot) and Carl to rescue her. Kong is captured and brought back to New York City as a publicity stunt but instead of creating a spectacle, he wreaks havoc on the Big Apple. This film continues our selections from AFI’s Greatest American Films of All Time.

Tootsie (1982)
Directed by Sydney Pollack
Saturday, July 14, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium

Struggling New York actor Michael Dorsey (Dustin Hoffman) poses as a woman to land a job on a daytime soap opera. His new alter ego “Dorothy Michaels” fools his agent and lands him a long-term contract. Michael fully embodies his new persona and inadvertently inspires women around the country to break free from the control of men. Complications arise as Michael finds himself in an unwelcome love triangle and struggles to maintain his feelings for his co-star Julie Nichols (Jessica Lange) while staying true to his new identity. This film continues our selections from AFI’s Greatest American Films of All Time.
Night Must Fall (1937)
Directed by Richard Thorpe
Saturday, July 21, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
A woman who went missing is found murdered in a peaceful English village. Her killer is at large. Cantankerous invalid Mrs. Bramson (Dame May Whitty) owns and lives on a nearby estate with niece Olivia (Rosalind Russell). One of the maids introduces handsome Welshman, Danny (Robert Montgomery) to them as her fiancée. Then and there, Danny wins the job of Mrs. Bramson’s live-in companion. Far from thrilled, Olivia dislikes and distrusts him. Step by step, he further ingratiates himself with the old lady. Olivia gradually experiences conflicting thoughts about Danny. Meanwhile, police are still stuck in neutral without a suspect. Barbara Steffek-Hill presents a series of classic and contemporary films from her personal favorites.

The Sea Inside (2004)
Directed by Alejandro Amenábar
Saturday, July 28, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
Former sailor Ramón Sampedro (Javier Bardem) is left living as a quadriplegic after a diving accident. His life is limited to his music, radio, television, visitors and the view from his window. For Ramón, this is not a dignified way to live, and he embarks on a campaign for the right to end his own life. Julia (Bélen Rueda) is a lawyer suffering from a degenerative fatal disease who fully supports his cause while blue-collar worker Rosa (Lola Dueñas) is determined to convince him that life is worth living. Ramón’s situation shows others the value and preciousness of life even as he demands to have his own dignity restored. In Spanish with English subtitles.

American Graffiti (1973)
Directed by George Lucas
Saturday, August 4, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
The end of summer is marked by one last night together for high school graduates Curt Henderson (Richard Dreyfuss) and Steve Bolander (Ron Howard). Curt is having second thoughts about college while Steve cannot wait to leave home and everything it represents behind. The last night before their grown-up lives begin includes a cruise around town in a Thunderbird and a trip to the burger drive-in. An appearance at the back-to-school sock hop makes this a truly quintessential summer night. This film concludes our selections from AFI’s Greatest American Films of All Time.

The Wrong Man (1956)
Directed by Alfred Hitchcock
Saturday, August 11, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.
Main Library Auditorium
The “wrong man” narrative has been a favorite theme of Hitchcock’s since 1927’s The Lodger, when silent era matinee idol, Ramon Novarro, was wrongly accused of being Jack the Ripper. For this movie, Hitchcock steps away from the fiction film and into the realm of real life. Based on Maxwell Anderson’s non-fiction book, it tells the true story of down-on-his-luck musician Manny Balestrero (Henry Fonda), who is wrongly accused of holding up an insurance office. Terry Meehan concludes his series on Hitchcock in the Fifties Part 2, introducing each film with an original video presentation, followed by audience reaction and a lively discussion.
The Strange Love of Martha Ivers (1946)
Directed by Lewis Milestone
Saturday, August 18, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.*
Main Library Auditorium

Young runaways Martha Ivers (Barbara Stanwyck) and boyfriend Sam Masterson (Van Heflin) are found. She’s returned home to rich aunt Mrs. Ivers (Judith Anderson). Hours later, the woman falls down a flight of stairs and dies. Martha and friend Walter O’Neil (Kirk Douglas) are the only witnesses and claim it was accidental. Martha inherits her aunt’s fortune. Martha and Walter later marry. Seventeen years after leaving, Sam wrecks his car passing through Iverstown. Repairs won’t be finished until the next day. He runs into lonely Toni Maracheck (Lizabeth Scott). After Martha and Sam meet by chance, she wants him back at all costs. Barbara Steffek-Hill presents a series of classic and contemporary films from her personal favorites.

The Night of the Shooting Stars (1982)
Directed by Paolo Taviani and Vittorio Taviani
Saturday, August 25, 2018 at 6:00 p.m.*
Main Library Auditorium

In Italian folklore, the Night of San Lorenzo is the night when dreams come true. Every shooting star fulfills a wish, but in a small Italian village in 1944, the only wish is for peace. The villagers of San Martino must flee their homes after hearing of Nazi plans to destroy their town. American troops are rumored to be close by and a group of villagers set out to find the nearby liberators. Love-struck Galvano (Omero Antonutti) and Concetta (Margarita Lozano) are among those who depart hoping for rescue and shelter. A young girl named Cecilia (Micol Guidelli) accompanies them as the villagers must face the consequences of their unbearable decisions. In Italian with English subtitles.
